OVERVIEW

For the past few years, South East Asia muslim community has become the biggest potential synergy in Islamic voluntary sector, after the Middle East region. Islamic Philanthropy network and social finance between countries are expected to provide solution for socio-economic and sustainable development challenges in South East Asia, especially poverty alleviation.

Continuing with synergy spirit from further forums such as MABIMS, Dewan Zakat Asia Tenggara and Waqf community of Asia and New Zealand, this event will brought together governments, industries, academic scholars, regional experts, professionals and corporate managers to discuss opportunities for voluntary partnerships in the Muslim world

The implementation of Islamic Philanthropy or Islamic Voluntary sector in every country in the world has its own characteristics and uniqueness. This is related to the fact that Islamic Philanthropy has strong connections to the culture and the system from which it is derived. Therefore, presentation and discourse are necessary to enrich the Islamic Philanthropy's idea and point of view.

IMZ Dompot Dhuafa, Sunan Gunung Djati State Islamic University Bandung, along with Center for Islamic Philanthropy and Social Finance (CIPSF) Malaysia will held an International Seminar to deeply-review the progress of zakat and waqf governance in South East Asia.
